Fees and charges

- Finance charge¹: If you fail to pay the Bank the whole of the statement balance by the payment due date, a finance charge will be applied (a) to the unpaid statement balance from the statement date immediately preceding the said payment due date until payment in full and (b) to the amount of each new transaction being posted since the statement date immediately preceding the said payment due date, from the transaction date until payment in full. The finance charge will accrue daily and be calculated at the interest rate per month as specified in the Bank's "Bank tariff guide for HSBC Retail Banking and Wealth Management Customers" for the time being in force.
- Late charge¹: If the minimum payment due is not received by the bank on or before the payment due date, a late charge (subject to a minimum and a maximum amount) will be levied on your card account.
- Overlimit handling fee¹: If the statement balance (excluding all the fees and charges currently billed to the card statement) exceeds the credit limit for the time being assigned to the card account, an overlimit handling fee will be debited to the card account on the statement date.
- Cash Advance fee¹: Cash advances will be subject to a handling charge depending on the channel via which the advance is made, where a minimum charge applies, plus a cash advance fee. All charges are flat and shall be debited to the card account as at the date of the advance.
- Returned cheque/rejected autoPay¹: A handling fee will be charged to the card account for each returned cheque or rejected autoPay if drawn on a bank other than HSBC.

The annualised percentage rate (APR) is calculated based on a set of assumptions as set out in the relevant guidelines as referred to in the Code of Banking Practice and the actual APR applied may be different. The APR on cash advance is inclusive of handling fee and cash advance fee.

There are some other fees and charges, such as annual fee, card replacement fee, statement duplication fee, etc., which may apply.
